JOHN H MOORES, Chairman

SALEM, Dec 4th, 1863

Modest Demands.

A recent Richmond paper contains the following as the only terms upon which the south will consent that the white wings of the angel of Peace shall ever again wave over our fair land. We commend them to the special attention of those irrepressible Democrats, who justify the rebellion, and are constantly saying that the south will cheerfully come back to the Union, if the war is only stopped and its slave property protected, and we ask them in all candor, whether, as northern men, as Democrats, if they please to call themselves so, they are willing to yield to such impudent dictation from the mouths of rebels? Would they not feel ashamed of themselves as free citizens of a Republic, and of their Government, if such unblushing arrogance was submitted to? If not, they are unfit to live in a free land—they ought to go to Dixie as soon as possible A free white man's country is no place for them They belong among slaves, and we advise contrabands who meet them to give them a wide berth, for fear of being degraded by association with them The Richmond writer says

> Save our own terms we can accept no peace whatever, and must fight till doomsday rather than yield an iota of them—our terms are
> Recognition by the enemy of the independence of the Confederate States
> Withdrawal of Yankee troops from every foot of Confederate ground, including Kentucky and Missouri
> Withdrawal of Yankee soldiers from Maryland, until that State shall decide by a free vote whether she shall remain in the old Union or ask admission into the Confederacy
> Consent on the part of the Federal Government to give up to the Confederacy its proportion of the navy, as it stood at the time of secession, or to pay for the same
> Yielding up all pretensions on the part of the Federal Government to that portion of the old territories which lies west of the Confederate States
> An equitable settlement on the basis of our absolute independence and equal rights, of all accounts of the public debt and public lands and of the advantages accruing from foreign treaties
> These provisions, we apprehend, comprise the minimum of what we must require before we lay down our arms. That is to say the north must yield all, we nothing The whole pretensions of that country to prevent by force the separation of the States, must be abandoned, which will be equivalent to an avowal that our enemies were wrong from the first, and of course, as they waged a causeless and wicked war upon us, they ought, in strict justice, to be required, according to usage in such cases, to reimburse to us the whole of our expenses and losses in the course of that war
> Whether this last proviso is to be insisted upon or not, certain we are that we cannot have any peace at all, until we shall be in a position, not only to demand and exact, but also to enforce and collect the treasure for our own reimbursement out of the wealthy cities in the enemy's country. In other words, unless we can destroy or scatter their armies and break up their government, we can have no peace, and if we can do that, then we can and ought not only to extort from them our own full terms, and ample acknowledgement of their wrong, but also a handsome indemnity for the trouble and expense caused to us by their crime

Similar in tone and temper is a recent letter from Governor Watts, of Alabama, it appears that some one, perhaps supposing that the Governor might still have a little patriotism and integrity left, had charged him with being favorable to a reconstruction of the Union Here is a part of his reply to an inquiry as to the truth of the statement

> He who is now, deliberately or otherwise, in favor of "reconstruction" with the States under Lincoln's domination, is a traitor in his heart to the State of his residence, and to the Confederate States, and deserves a traitor's doom If I had the power, I would build up a wall of fire between Yankeedom and the Confederate States there to burn for ages as a monument of the folly, wickedness and vandalism of the Puritanic race! No, sir rather than unite with such a people I would see the confederate States desolated with fire and sword When the men of the south shall become such base cowards as to wish for such reunion let us call on the women of the south to march to the battle field, and, in the name of the God of Justice bid them fight under the banner of southern liberty! The call would not be made in vain Let the patriot sires whose children have bared their breasts to Yankee bullets and welcomed glorious deaths in this struggle for self government, rebuke the foul spirit which even whispers "reconstruction" Let the noble mothers, whose sons have made sacred with their blood so many fields consecrated to freedom rebuke the heresy! Let our blood stained banners, now unfurled to the battle and the breeze, rebuke the cowardice and cupidity which suggest reconstruction The spirit of our heroic dead—the martyrs to our sacred cause, rebuke—a thousand times rebuke—"reconstruction" We have little cause for despondency none for despair Let us now nerve ourselves afresh for the contest, and let us not forget that
> Freedom's battle once begun,
> Bequeathed from bleeding sire to son,
> Though baffled oft, is ever won!
> If we are true to ourselves—true to the memories of the past—true to our homes and our firesides and true to our God we cannot we will not be conquered In any and every event let us prefer death to a life of cowardly shame

Affairs in New Orleans

An army officer writing to an eastern paper gives gratifying proof of the progress of national sentiments as well as of the prosperous revival of business in the Crescent City We hope the day will soon come which shall witness in every southern city similar results of American enterprise and of the influence of the spirit of freedom which is quietly winning momentous victories in its sphere [illegible] than those of war The writer says

> Quite a sensation occurred here a few days ago [illegible] the [illegible] by the flinging to the breeze of a beautiful United States flag, which bore upon it the inscription "Free State General Committee Rooms" It was nothing strange to us Yankees for we had seen such things at home during [illegible] campaigns, but to see such here! Who dared to pollute New Orleans with such a banner? Free State indeed! Those infernal Yankees will ruin us yet How they did growl [illegible] casting awful glances at the hateful word and mutter vengeance but all to no purpose The flag still floats the committee room is still visited by hundreds and tracts, newspapers and documents find their way into many families this sowing seed that will ere long bring forth fruit that will go far towards making a Free State of Louisiana The manner in which the cotton crop raised by free labor is advertised and trumpeted, and the crowds that attend these sales, together with the spirited bidding that takes place when a bale of it is offered all go to show that a change is gradually taking place That change must be slow, but it will be sure The institution that has hung like a dark cloud over our country so long, must give place to free labor when the development of the resources of this fertile State will astonish the most inveterate worshiper of slavery
> One cannot but see the great contrast between this fall and last in the matter of business in this city Then how desolate Scarcely a rumble of the dray wheels on the street from morning till night, the large stores nearly empty and [illegible] the river boats what few there were being used only as transports the levee as free of merchandise as the copperheads are of patriotism Now the sidewalks are piled up with boxes and bales, the drays and carts as they rattle over the stones are most deafening the stores well filled with goods and customers —old stores are opened, the dust dirt and cobwebs are removed, the carpenter, the painter and the [illegible] are called into requisition to renovate and renew old signs bearing the names of men who cast their lot with the rebellion and joined its armies are being taken down or painted out—their names will be no more seen among men—and new signs with the name of some loyal firm emblazoned thereon take the place Splendid steamboats loaded with the products of the great west or with cotton and sugar are arriving at all hours of the day and night and the steamers from New York roll out the merchandise upon the levee until it can no longer be used by Uncle Sam's boys for a parade or drill ground Last year one could hardly find military goods enough to equip a dozen officers, now he sees stacks of them on every hand Taking it all together, the change is one that cannot but cheer the hearts of all lovers of their country A healthy sentiment is gaining ground, and will ere long be so strong for the Union that some of them will look back and wonder how they could have been coaxed or driven into the network of those arch traitors Slidell and Benjamin, who were the prime movers of the rebellion in this State

POLITICAL BREAKERS AHEAD —Under the above title, the Union correspondent at Washington writes the following, which we quote, as it refers to a matter in which the people of Oregon are concerned, though we do not suppose, that any serious difficulty can possibly be caused by the action of the late Clerk —

> Just before the adjournment of the last Congress, it passed a bill, which subsequently became a law, for the purpose as its title expressed it of "regulating the duties of the Clerk of the House of Representatives in preparing for the organization of the House The Act was designed to guard against the premature admission of members from seceded States who, it was thought might claim and obtain seats upon certificates from quasi rebel National authority, and reads as follows
> Be it enacted, etc That before the first meeting of the next Congress, and of every subsequent Congress the Clerk of the next preceding House of Representatives shall prepare a roll of the Representatives elect and shall place thereon the names of all persons, and of such persons only, whose credentials shall show that they were regularly elected in accordance with the laws of their States respectively or of the United States
> It is well known that the credentials of many of the Representatives in Congress are commonly open to nice objections, and that many are altogether defective, and as the Act above quoted gives to the Clerk of the House considerable discretionary power, it has leaked out that the present incumbent, the erratic and unscrupulous Emerson Etheridge, proposes to use his authority by rejecting from the roll which he will make up the names of all Administration Representatives to whose credentials any objection can possibly be made, and thus succeed in throwing out of the organization of the House the votes of a sufficient number of Union men to secure a Copperhead majority which may elect a Speaker and proceed to organize the House Should this precious scheme succeed in the first step, all of the rest will be in logical sequence, and the House Committees may be so constituted as to virtually disfranchise all of the Union members who would be at first temporarily denied a voice in the organization Of course this would not be attempted in such cases as those where a delegation were composed of Unionists and Copperheads mixed as in New York, for that would be likely to rule out all of the delegation alike, but in the case of California, Vermont, Massachusetts and other States where the delegation is unbroken, objection could be made to the wording of one set of credentials which objection would apply to all from that State but apply to no other State For example, there is no State law in Oregon by which a Representative to Congress is elected, and when Shiel's seat was contested in the last Congress, Thaddeus Stevens, upon examination of the case, said that, by a strict construction of the law, neither applicant was entitled to a seat yet Shiel was admitted upon the plea that in the absence of any legal enactment upon the subject the people, in their own right, had conformed to the true intent and meaning of the Constitution though they had not to any State or National law The admission of Shiel was made an excuse on the part of the Oregon Legislature, subsequently for not enacting a law making provision for a Congressional election but that neglect may temporarily unseat J R McBride the Oregon Representative to the next Congress as his credentials only set forth the fact that upon a certain election he received a certain number of votes (and the credentials make an error of one thousand votes against him, by the by), and that Ambrose L Wait received another given number and that therefore, said McBride was declared by the Governor, who signs the document, duly elected Of course this irregularity is fatal, if the Clerk is strict to require that the credentials shall show forth that the person claiming to be the Representative was duly elected "in accordance with the laws of the State or of the United States" and accordingly considerable perturbation of mind has been stirred up by the discovery of what was going on and the credentials of shaky parties are industriously overhauled that the possibility of success to the Copperhead scheme to get the House may be destroyed To this end F F Low, your Governor elect has been telegraphed to that your members may be properly credited if it is not too late and McBride has telegraphed to Oregon to have a new set of credentials sent on before the assembling of Congress It is a little singular that this precious plan of the renegade Etheridge should have first become known in Louisiana and was from thence communicated to the President

CHANCE TO GET RID OF A CURSE —At last accounts, the Sultan of Turkey was said to be anxious to try the pair of rebel "rams," seized at Birkenhead by the British Government Perhaps the Turk would like also to take "Old Buck," (who, by good luck is now in England,) to make his assortment complete A small price will buy him, and to be sure of getting rid of him, we are willing to give him away, with the other goats

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT OREGON In Admiralty Cause of personal damage civil and maritime John Pendergrast vs Henry Lampman Deady Justice

The allegations of the libel and amended libel substantially are that the libellant, on or about the 12th of October, 1863 shipped on board the steamship Sierra Nevada at San Francisco, as a coal passer for the voyage to Portland and back That about three o'clock in the morning of the 21th of October, aforesaid while the said steamship was prosecuting her voyage and while she was lying at the wharf at Portland, Oregon, the defendant being the First Assistant Engineer of said steamship, did wilfully and wrongfully beat and seriously injure the libellant

The answer of the defendant substantially avers that the allegations of the libel concerning the alleged assault, are untrue and further that on the morning in question, he, the defendant went to the forecastle to call the libellant to duty it being the watch of the libellant and he being in the department of defendant as one of the Engineer's men That libellant refused to obey and when again ordered by defendant that libellant struck defendant in the face with his fist and that thereupon, defendant resisted the assault of the libellant and used sufficient force to restrain the libellant from further acts of violence and no more

A number of witnesses have been examined but one of them saw the affair in its inception, and that was Harvy Bruce, and only one other saw any portion of it and that was Thomas Williamson These both belonged to the ship's crew the former a coal passer and the latter a waiter in the saloon Three others of the ship's crew have been examined Peter Mackin the First Mate, John Roche, a coal passer and Joseph McLain a water tender Besides these the libellant has called three witnesses to show his appearance after the affair as evidence of the extent of his injuries These are John O'Connor, late Mate of the steamboat Wilson G Hunt Edward Gallinger the keeper of a whisky shop in Portland the place where the libellant was drinking the night before the trouble and John Sullivan a young man who was in Gallinger's shop that same night The libellant himself was also sworn and says that he was on shore that night That he came on board very drunk and that he does not remember very much about it He says the defendant jerked him out of his berth and struck him and kicked him

After duly considering all the circumstances I am inclined to think that the statement of Harvy Bruce comes nearest to the truth His appearance on the stand, the manner in which he testified and the natural probability of his story when compared with all the known circumstances of the case led me to adopt this conclusion The details as testified to by other parties, making due allowance for such imperfections as are likely to exist among common men and seamen, do not materially conflict with his statement I think it most probable then and for the purposes of this case sufficiently established that on the evening of the 22d the libellant went ashore, and while at the house of Gallager became intoxicated, and in that condition returned to the ship That after being in bed some time he was aroused up by the defendant to go on duty That feeling tired and sullen after his debauch, he behaved ugly and refused to go, and that when the defendant took hold of his shirt and shook him, to arouse him up, the libellant assaulted defendant by striking him To this the defendant replied by a blow that knocked him down

How much the libellant was injured it is hard to say On the face, it is pretty evident he got a hard blow that for some hours after, "bunged up" his eye Yet he said he could see out of it the next morning The blow and its consequences, was not any more than any sailor would expect at the hands of his superior officer, whom he had assaulted in the discharge of his duty It is what would be expected and justifiable in case of an assault upon one stranger by another on the street An officer that would not have done it under the circumstances would be held in contempt by the crew and be of little use to his employer I think the alleged injuries on the back, are altogether unproven and highly improbable The one upon the groin appears to have been a trifling affair and may have occurred by his striking against the carpenter's chest, or chain cable in the vicinity of the scuffle But if the defendant had even struck or kicked him on the thigh (for it is the word thigh and not groin that is used by the witness), what then? The defendant after he was down, continued to scuffle with the defendant, calling him by the most opprobrious epithets, and threatening to kill him The defendant is well known in the trade and coalpassers who have been with him for some time speak of him as being a kind humane man, one that never miscalls or abuses his men On the contrary, so far as the libellant is known, he bears the reputation of being a turbulent and disagreeable man, with the exception, that for a few days, while this suit was pending he was on board the river steamer Wilson G Hunt During that time, O'Connor, who was then mate, says that he was peaceable and well behaved His getting drunk on shore that night and coming on board in an unfit condition for duty, was a violation of his obligation, and probably to that, more than anything else, he may attribute the trouble and bruises that came afterwards Far be it from this Court to so administer the law as to encourage or countenance cruelty to seamen, coalpassers, or any other of the crews or hands on our boats or ships They have their rights, and this Court will go as far as any in maintaining them But the law is not made for this class of people alone The fore castle is not all the world. The quarter deck is to be considered also When seamen get drunk and act like brutes, they must not be expected to be treated like sober, orderly men

The decree of the Court will be that the libel be dismissed, at the cost of the libellant

Hodgkinson & Stout for libellant
Holbrook for defendant

ARRIVAL OF MR BEACHY WITH HIS PRISONERS —On Tuesday evening last the long looked for prisoners arrived in the stage from below, in charge of Messrs Beachy, Ankeny and Farrell escorted by a file of soldiers, under command of Capt Porter When the stage halted before the Luna House, where a dense crowd had gathered to see the prisoners and greet its proprietor, Mr Hill Beachy, perfect order prevailed As the prisoners emerged from the stage the crowd instantly and quietly parted an alley way, through which they passed into the bar room, thence up stairs into a chamber As Mr B alighted from the stage three deafening cheers were sent up by the crowd for him, and from the manner in which they were given, we can assure our San Francisco friends that they were not intended as fulsome adulation, which dies away with the passing echo Not the least excitement was manifested except the natural elation felt by the people at the success of Mr Beachy, to whom and those associated with him too much praise cannot be awarded —we have not heard a single expression that would tend to excite mob violence Every one appears willing that the prisoners should have a fair and impartial trial before our legally established tribunals We are a law abiding people, and as long as we have legally established courts to try criminals, no one need fear mob violence—our cotemporaries in San Francisco, Portland and Dalles to the contrary notwithstanding Because there were five men hung here last year, by the mob before there was any law or courts to punish criminals, people every where imagine that the same order of things still prevail Such is not the case, the prisoners will have a fair and impartial trial before our legal authorities and if acquitted will not be molested, but suffered to part in peace The citizens of Lewiston return thanks to R H Lloyd, of San Francisco, and James Coffroth of Sacramento, for the able assistance rendered Mr Beachy as counsel before the courts below Also to the police of San Francisco for their promptness in arresting the prisoners —Golden Age

[We are informed by Marshal Payne of Idaho, that the statements made in the Dalles papers, yesterday, in regard to the confessions of Page one of the murderers, are inaccurate, and at his request we abstain from publishing them —ED OREGONIAN]

When the prisoners arrived at Lewiston it was discovered that their shackles had been filed nearly through, the parts being held together by a mere thread of wire and the file marks were filled with a mixture of mercurial ointment and dust They are now in Hill Beachy's own house doubly ironed and surrounded by a guard of citizens —Dalles Journal

Cold and Fever.

NEWARK, OHIO, June 5, 1863

Messrs A L SCOVILL & Co —Gents It is with great pleasure that I inform you of the effects of Dr MOTT'S LIVER PILLS in my family Four years ago I had the BILIOUS FEVER although under the constant attendance of a Physician who treated it with Calomel until I was salivated, and my tongue was much swollen and it was the cause of more pain than the disease itself Finally he gave me up and said that I could not live I still lingered for six weeks and finally got [illegible] with a broken down constitution subject frequently to attacks of Rheumatic Pains in my bones when exposed at least, to cold or dampness Since that time I have had frequent similar attacks and have by the use of Dr Mott's Vegetable Liver Pills broken up the disease without having the system injured by the use of calomel I would not be without them on any account Respectfully

THE NEW COWLITZ STEAMER — The hull of the new steamer built at Monticello, to run on the Cowlitz river is a trim little craft, so buoyant, that with the frame of her upper works, hurricane deck cabins, &c, erected, she draws but 7 inches aft and 5 inches forward—mean draft 6 inches She is 90 feet long by 22 feet beam She is to be propelled by a stern wheel, by about 75 horse power, and is expected to prove a very fast boat Her machinery entire is being constructed at the Oregon Iron Works and she will probably make her trial trip about the first of January

GOLD DUST —Mr Holland, Wells, Fargo & Co's Express messenger, brought down on the Wilson G Hunt last night 125 pounds of dust Seventy five passengers also came down, many of them from Boise, and among them were several possessed of fortunes, very few if any without a fair supply of gold

SAILED —The bark Samuel Merritt, Capt Williams, sailed for Oak Point, yesterday to load lumber for San Francisco She swung round at the wharf, and glided away down river, under royals, with a free wind, in fine style.

FRESH PORK FOR VICTORIA — Twenty five hog carcases averaging 160 pounds, were brought in yesterday from Oakland Mills, and sold for 7½ cents per pound They were purchased for shipment to Victoria We learn that packers here have been paying 8 cents.

HEAVY OREGON CASTINGS —During the past week some very heavy castings have been successfully turned out at the Oregon Iron Works in this city A massive drum, cast for the use of the O S N Co, for hoisting heavy freight up an inclined plane from the steamer to the cars at the Dalles, was sent up on the boat a day or two since Its weight was over eleven hundred pounds Yesterday they took from the sand a retort 48 inches in length by 24 inches diameter, weighing over twelve hundred pounds, designed for use by the Turpentine Manufacturing Company in this city The heavy sled shoes 2½ inches thick by 2½ wide, for winter use over the Cascade and Blue Mountain ranges, are almost ready for shipment to the interior. Aside from the numberless rail car wheels, stove backs, &c which keep the foundry busy, in the finishing department a great deal of machinery and general work is pushed rapidly to completion A shaft, intended for the new steamer at Milwaukie, has been welded and is nearly ready to leave the works. The concern now melts ten tons of iron per month, is increasing its business steadily and surely, and even now obviates the necessity of sending abroad for any work required at home, from a brass key to a thousand horse power engine

A HINT TO TAX-PAYERS —The 15th inst. is the last day of grace for payment of city taxes, immediately after that day the Collector will be forced by law to proceed and levy upon the personal effects of each individual delinquent Preparations have already been perfected to proceed promptly with such levies It will undoubtedly be a somewhat unpleasant duty for the Collector to perform, but one he cannot avoid A word to the wise is sufficient

LETTER FROM "A TRAVELER."—A correspondent writing from the Cascades yesterday, says "We left Dalles this morning at five o'clock, on steamer Idaho, with about 75 passengers, all of whom had more or less dust, and I should judge the Expressman had some where in the neighborhood of 100 pounds Arrived at Lower Cascades at 10 o'clock, and [illegible] highly entertained at Dennison's Saloon by a lot of the boys from the upper country, until about one o'clock In the meantime, a gentleman happening to look out of the window, discovered a man floundering in the river. The cry of 'man overboard' caused a general stampede In a very brief period he was rescued from a watery grave, and that excitement subsided The steamer Wilson G Hunt now made her landing, when the gentlemanly Clerk was severely attacked by the boys with 'shingles,' after a long struggle, the difficulty was settled by all hands taking a social drink, after which all went on merrily "

ELEGANT PRESENT IN RAFFLE —The elegant solid rose wood, satin wood lined case and silver plated Wheeler & Wilson sewing machine, to which we called attention a short time since, is up to be raffled for in time to be presented and delivered by the winner as a Christmas Gift No more beautiful or appropriate present to a lady could be made See Mr Pomeroy's advertisement

PAID DEAR FOR AN UMBRELLA.—John Gordon was introduced to his Honor Recorder McCoy, yesterday, and was found guilty of having appropriated an umbrella for which he subsequently paid ten dollars, besides a small bill of costs incident to such introductions That umbrellas are "public property" is thus authoritatively denied.

ARRIVALS —We understand that Governor Wallace, Delegate to Congress from Idaho, came from the Dalles yesterday, as far as Vancouver on his way to Washington D S Payne Marshal of the same Territory, is in this city at the Dennison House, and will accompany Governor Wallace

THE COMMON COUNCIL held a short session last evening, but no business of importance was transacted

The inventors and makers of the first Sewing Machines were looked upon and esteemed as visionary and impracticable theorists The fact that a machine could be made sew, and in a more beautiful rapid and durable manner than by hand, was beyond belief After a protracted struggle against prejudice, a few Chronic Diarrhœa Cured by DR. BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA, when everything else failed.

WESTFIELD, June 2, 1862.

Messrs. A. L. Scovill & Co.—Gents: I have been most fully afflicted for the last three years with the Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst form. I have tried more than a thousand prescriptions from numerous physicians, to all without the desired effect. My case was said to be hopeless and I believed it myself. I commenced using Dr. BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA with but little faith, but I followed the directions given, and to my great surprise the fifth dose had in a measure checked my disease. It has been just ten days from the date of this certificate since I commenced using Baker's Panacea, and I am nearly as well as ever. I am confident one more twenty five cent bottle will entirely cure me. Please accept and use this certificate as you see proper, inasmuch as I owe my life to the inventor of this invaluable Panacea.

Truly yours, DAVID T. BOTTS.

THERE is no other way to cure disease but by first purifying the whole system so as to create a healthy circulation.

The first medical men of the age agree with us that no disease of any extent can be cured without using such medicines as will act directly upon the blood. Why many medicines have failed to cure chronic ... is because the medicines used have not been such as will act ... upon the blood.

The many thousands of bottles which have been used by the public and the many grateful letters ... warrant us in saying that the last two years we have been more successful with our Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup in curing hopeless cases of chronic diseases than any other remedies in the hands of physicians, or before the public.

A Trick of War

A correspondent of the New York Dispatch says that during the war of 1812, he accidentally got possession of some of the signals of the British Navy which he put into the hands of Com Rodgers and he thus concludes his article

Soon after the conclusion of peace, dining with Com Rodgers at his house in Washington, he related to me the following circumstance, which I give in nearly in his own words

"I acknowledged the receipt of your letter," he observed, "and I was determined to have the signals made in mind and to try the experiment, none of my officers understanding for what purpose they were intended. I cruised some time without meeting an enemy until one afternoon we fell in with a ship some six or eight miles to windward of us. We hoisted the British ensign which was answered by displaying another, and at the same time a signal at her maintop gallant masthead, which I immediately discovered was like one of those you had given me. From the list of English frigates, I selected the number of the Sea Horse, one of their large class, and known to be on our coast, and hoisted it. She bore down at once and came under our stern. I ordered her to heave to and I would send a boat on board of her.

"This order was obeyed and I dispatched a lieutenant to bring her signal book, enjoining on him and the crew the strictest secrecy respecting our character. He was politely received by the captain, whose ship proved to be the Highflyer. Our lieutenant's coat attracted his attention, not being of the latest London fashion, although the crown and anchor was on the button; but casting his eye on the frigate, seeing the British ensign, and now and then the red coat of a marine appearing above the hammock netting, his mind was apparently set at rest.

"The lieutenant informed him that he was requested to bring his signal book on board the Sea Horse, in order to have some alterations made, as there was a rumor that the Yankees had possession of something like the signals, and it was therefore necessary to change the numbers. This ruse had the desired effect, and our lieutenant returned with the book, which placed me in command of the whole correspondence of the British Navy. I then sent the gig for the Captain, requesting him to come on board and bring any dispatches he might have in charge.

"On reaching our deck he seemed surprised at the size of the vessel, praised her cleanliness, and the order in which everything appeared, admired the red coats of the marines, and on being invited into the cabin, handed me a bundle of dispatches for Admiral Warren, who, he observed, must be within forty miles to leeward. I ordered refreshments, and, in company with several of my officers, we entered into a general conversation.

"I asked him what object Admiral Warren had in cruising in that neighborhood? He said to intercept American privateers and merchantmen, but particularly to catch Commodore Rodgers, who he understood, had command of one the largest and fastest sailing frigates in the American Navy. I inquired of him what kind of a man this Rodgers was, and if he had ever seen him? He said no; but he had understood that he was an odd character, and rather hard to catch. After conversing on several other subjects, I abruptly put this question to him

"Sir, do you know what vessel you are on board of?"

"Why, yes, sir," he replied, "on board His Majesty's ship Sea Horse."

"Then, sir, you labor under a very great mistake. You are on board the United States frigate President, and I am Com. Rodgers at your service."

"The dying dolphin never assumed a greater variety of colors than did this poor fellow's face. 'Sir,' said he, 'You are disposed to be humorous, and must be joking.' I assured him that it was no joke, and to satisfy him on that head, handed him my commission. At the same moment the band struck up Yankee Doodle, on our quarter deck, on reaching which, he saw the American ensign flying, the red coats of the marines turned blue, and the crown and anchor button metamorphosed into the eagle.

"This affair," observed the Commodore, "was of immense importance to our country. We obtained in full the British signals, the operations of Admiral Warren, by the non-receipt of his dispatches, were destroyed for the season, and it probably saved the frigate, for the course I was running at the time of my falling in with the Highflyer would have brought me into the midst of his fleet during the night."

How Sal "Disgraced the Family."—A traveler in the State of Illinois, some years ago, came to a log hut on the prairie, near Cairo, and there halted. He went into the house. It was a wretched affair—an empty packing-box for a table, while two or three chairs and disagreeable stools graced the reception room, the dark walls of which were further ornamented by a display of tinware and a broken shelf article or two. The woman was crying in one corner, and the man, with tears in his eyes and a pipe in his mouth, on a stool with his sorrowful looking head supported by the palms of his hands. Not a word greeted the interloper.

"Well," he said, "you seem to be in awful trouble here. What's up?"

"Ah, we are almost crazy, neighbor," said the woman, "and we ain't got no patience to see folks now."

"That's all right," said the stranger, not much taken aback by the polite rebuff, "but can I be of any service to you in all of this trouble?"

"Well, we've lost our gal, our Sal's gone off, and left us," said the old man in tones of deep despair.

"Ah, do you know what induced her to leave you?" remarked the new arrival.

"Well, we can't say, neighbor, as how she's so far lost as to be induced, but then she gone and disgraced us," remarked the afflicted father.

"Yes, stranger, and—not as I should say it as her mother—but there warn't a prettier gal in all the West than our Sal. She's gone and brought ruin on her own head now," followed the stricken mother.

"Who has she gone off with?" inquired the visitor.

"Well, there's the trouble. The gal could have done well, and might have married Martin Kehoe, a capital shoemaker, who, although he has but one eye, plays the flute in a lively manner and earns a good living. Then, look, what a life she has deserted. She was here surrounded by all the luxury in the country," said the father.

"Yes, who knows what poor Sal will have to eat, drink and wear now," groaned the old woman.

"And who is the fellow who has taken her into such misery?"

"Why, she's gone off and got married to a critter called an editor, as lives in the village, and the Lord only knows how he's to airn a living."

Good for Beecher.—While Beecher was delivering a speech at Manchester an American gentleman asked him to say a word about the Russians in New York. He did so, as reported, by saying what was going on in New York was a little piece of poetry. [Laughter.] When a young woman [illegible] [Laughter.] New York was first [illegible] [Cheers.] [illegible] of America have a make believe flirtation with Russia at a time when the [illegible] engaged in suppressing the brave Poland, and [illegible] so too. AYER'S
Cathartic Pills

(SUGAR COATED)
ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK.

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 1

DR J C AYER: Sir, I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect,
ED W PREBLE, Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D C

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.

Fraternally yours,
ALONZO BALL, M D, Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, Liv Co., Mich.

DR AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctor's bills and lost much time without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

GEO J GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J V HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING Co., N Y, Oct 24

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G MEACHAM, M D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4.

DR AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MORGRIDGE.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes of the Methodist Epis. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, Ga.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, La.

DR AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years.

VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.
